

From: Ruth Parsons

Sent: Wednesday, September 02, 2009 7:49 PM

Subject: Re: Structure committee recommendations solicitation from community well, I don't know much about it so am not inclined to comment. But it seems that a full time paid chief would be wonderful, but not knowing if the budget would allow this, I am reluctant to suggest this. Three chiefs seems to be an invitation for miscommunication and low coordination, but since I am not familiar with the functional areas, I don't know about that either. What does anyone else think?

Ruth J. Parsons, Ph.D

Research Professor, Institute for Conflict Resolution, University of Denver

